NOVEMBER 2023

Dear Friends...

This month is a time for Remembrance. Remembrance Sunday draws human beings together in a way that is almost unique. Young and old gather to remember and reflect, each allowing some aspect of the reality of war to touch their lives. Some who gather will bring new and not so new memories of active service. Some will carry in their heart the memory of a special loved one who made the ultimate sacrifice. Many will be stretching their imaginations to try and grasp what those people must be feeling. All will be praying that as time rolls forward human beings will find ways of resolving their differences and repelling aggressors which do not involve war.

Jesus knew the power of remembrance when he took a loaf of bread and blessed it and gave it to his friends saying, 'this is my body' and gave them wine to drink saying, 'this is my blood' and told them to remember him in that way. For such simple things is the kingdom of God—the long hoped-for future of justice and peace, mercy and truth made.

It is our duty to ensure that those who in the cause of peace have given and continue to give, of their life, their youth are honoured and remembered. But in our remembering we must also vow to give of ourselves for the good of humanity, especially of the generations yet to come, who will themselves one day stand in silent remembrance and grow in hope.

Every blessing to you,

Rev Dr Richard Teal
